R E P O R T

—OF THE—

Board of Engineers-1919-20

During the year the Fire Department has responded to thirty-seven alarms, three box, thirty-two still and two engineer's calls, this being five less than last year.

Weak places in the fire alarm system have received attention. The old wire on Mechanic street has been replaced by new, and work commenced to renew the wire on Winter street. Our plan is to thoroughly rebuild a section each year until the entire line is in proper shape.

All apparatus and equipment is in good condition.

In accordance with vote of the town at last annual meeting, a hydrant has been installed in the lower part of the town near the residence of Charles M. Boothby.

The interior of the Fletcher street engine house has been painted and other minor repairs made. The ceiling of the West Kennebunk house has been repaired.

A new thirty-two foot extension ladder has been purchased and added to our equipment.

Our need now is a ladder truck. It is impossible to carry the long, heavy ladders on the chemical truck, and as buildings in the village are being constructed to a greater height than formerly, a way should be provided for hauling these ladders with the least possible delay. The "board" have under consideration a plan for meeting this need by rebuilding the old horse drawn supply wagon to be used as a trailer, with a quick attachment, to be drawn by the fire truck when needed. This we believe can be done at a reasonably small expense.

The fire department property is insured as follows: The Fletcher street house and contents, $4,200; West Kennebunk house and contents, $1,500; Landing hose house and contents, $400; Beach hose house and contents, $400; contents of house at Lower Village, $400; the alarm system, $300.

In submitting this report we call attention to the fact that, notwithstanding the high cost of materials, we have continued our policy of keeping within our appropriation, and note with satisfaction that an overdraft has not occurred in this department for the past eight years.

Expenditures are as follows:

LINCOLN'S LONG LOST WORDS ON WASHINGTON

This is the 110th anniversary of the birthday of Washington. We are met to celebrate this day. Washington is the mightiest name on earth—long since mightiest in the cause of civil liberty; still mightiest in moral reformation.

On that name an eulogy is expected. It cannot be. To add brightness to the sun or glory to the name of Washington is alike impossible. Let none attempt it.

In solemn awe pronounce the name and in its naked, deathless splendor leave it shining on.

REPORT

— OF THE —

Superintendent of Schools.

TO THE SUPERINTENDING SCHOOL COMMITTEE OF THE TOWN OF KENNEBUNK:

It is a pleasant duty to present to you a report on the condition and progress of the schools of Kennebunk.

During the short time it has been my privilege to serve you, I have sought to become acquainted with local conditions, to do some constructive work, to lay the foundations for further progress, and to perform my duties from the point of view that the development and welfare of each pupil are the prime object of teaching.

Teachers

Only eight of the twenty-four teachers who taught last year remained for the current year. This made it necessary to find eleven new grade teachers, three new high school teachers, including the principal, and two new special teachers. The summer months were spent largely in the selection of these teachers and they were chosen with considerable care. This was not easy owing to the great scarcity of teachers throughout the state and nation. Although in several cases it was not possible to find experienced teachers, the new teachers as well as those who had taught before have as a whole been successful, and the entire teaching staff deserves praise for the splendid things accomplished.

Salaries

The town of Kennebunk took its stand with the most progressive towns of the state when, in August of last year, it provided for a general increase in the salaries of teachers and established a definite salary schedule which takes into consideration the training and experience of the teacher as well as the kind of position.

There have not been any resignations so far this year in Kennebunk, and it is quite probable that the raise of salaries has had something to do with this happy condition.

It is only a reasonable business proposition to provide such funds as to allow the town of Kennebunk to pick its share of good teachers. It is not a question of whether we can afford the taxes, but a question of whether we can afford not to have the teachers. Conditions are such that it is necessary to provide for a further increase of salaries at the beginning of the fall term. Whether we will be able to retain our best teachers will depend very largely upon our foresight in providing sufficient funds. A glance at the school accounts will show that sufficient funds can be provided without a large increase in the appropriation owing to the excellent condition of the school finances. I see no reason why the schools of Kennebunk should be inferior to those of Biddeford or Sanford or any other town in York county. The standing of the schools depends to a large extent upon the support of the people. If the people provide the funds and give to the school officials their confidence and support, the school officials will be able to do their part toward making the schools of Kennebunk equal to the best.

Free High School

During the summer, several conditions made the outlook for Kennebunk High School seem rather discouraging. However, we were able to find a man for principal who has proven to be an excellent instructor, a good disciplinarian and a popular man in the community. His report on conditions in the high school has my hearty approval. We were very fortunate to have with us again, as an assistant, Miss Tilton, whose enthusiasm and skill have contributed much to the success of the school. Miss Piper has done well in Latin and French. Miss Davenport, who is having her first experience this year, has made a success of her subjects and has taken a great interest in the social welfare of the pupils.

Text Books

New arithmetics and grammars were purchased during the year, and the schools have profited by these splendid books. The use of these books has tended to raise the standard of work in the grades and to emphasize the ability of the pupil to apply his knowledge to some practical use.

The general policy of having the same books in use in all schools has been adopted. Owing to the great variety of books in use this policy cannot be put into effect at once, as it is impractical to discard a great many new books even for the sake of uniformity. As fast as the old books become worn out they are being replaced according to a definite plan. New books of known value have been placed where most needed so far as the funds would allow.

Repairs

During the summer the school committee inspected all the buildings in town and decided upon the repairs that were most needed. The following repairs were made:

West Kennebunk—Painting outside, whitewashing, patching plaster and shingles, pointing up foundation and minor repairs.

Western—The plumbing was arranged so that a drinking fountain was placed in the primary room, and additional toilets were put in to which access could be had from the interior on both sides of the building. The trees which darkened the upper room were removed, and a new plaster-board ceiling was placed in the 3rd and 4th grade room. Later a double window was placed in the front of the building, a register was cut in the hot air pipe that passes through the toilet rooms and a box stove was placed upstairs to relieve the cold resulting from a wholly inadequate heating plant.

Centennial Hill—Painting, whitewashing and minor repairs.

High School—Minor repairs on the toilets.

Lower Village—Grading around walk and repair of hall.

Landing—Shutters for rear windows.

The Pines School and Lower Alewife School were found in very good condition.

An effort was made to accomplish as much as possible with a reasonable expenditure.

Upper Alewife School

A serious problem was forced on the committee just before the beginning of the fall term by the request that the Upper Alewife school be reopened. At a special town meeting a fund of $2,000 was raised "to repair, equip and maintain the Upper Alewife School." Repairs and equipment were estimated at $1,200, and maintenance, that is teacher's and janitor's salary and fuel, at $800. Of the equipment, $50 was set aside for special books, such as a dictionary, and books for the teacher's use, and $150 for paper, maps, charts, etc. This left $1,000 available for improvement of the building.

The following repairs were made on the building: The foundation was strengthened, a new floor was laid, the windows were changed to improve the lighting, the chimney was rebuilt, the walls were plastered, a new toilet, walk and woodshed were built, the roof was shingled, and the whole building painted inside and out. Desks were taken from the Landing School and varnished. The Landing School stove also was used. The total cost of repairs was $822 59.

Rural Schools

The most serious phase of the rural school problem is that of finding properly trained teachers. The State Superintendent of Schools reports 80 rural schools in the State of Maine closed during the fall term because teachers could not be found for them. In New York state there are 5,000 schools actually closed for the same reason. It takes something more than a salary to keep a good teacher in a school. The equipment and condition of the schoolhouse, the convenience and accommodations of the boarding place and the social life of the community have much to do with the ability of that community to obtain and keep a satisfactory teacher. Under these conditions, a town which increases the number of its rural schools at this time is assuming a grave risk and a serious responsibility.

Heat

Experience here this winter, as well as in several other towns, proves that a school building cannot be properly heated by a hot air furnace. There is always one room that will not warm up on a cold, windy day.

Stoves and other temporary arrangements were installed at the Western and Centennial Hill schools this winter and at the Lower Village previously. But these are not the kind of heating facilities that a town with the high standing of Kennebunk can be proud of or can well tolerate. Conditions at the Lower Village have been very bad even with the stoves in use. We recommend that steam heat be put in this building this summer and in the other buildings as soon as possible.

The town is given the power to compel children to attend school. Has the town any right to place these children in unsanitary or unhealthy rooms?

Eye Tests

The eye tests this year and last showed up certain things which the people of the town would do well to consider.

Tests of 1919:

Per cent of high school pupils defective in eyesight	28%
Per cent of grammar pupils in high school building defective	37
Per cent of other pupils in town defective in eyesight	13
Per cent of pupils in the whole state defective in eyesight	10

New High School Building

It is hoped that in the near future conditions will be such as to warrant the entertainment of a proposition in regard to the construction of a new high school building. At that time a report on the subject will be made.

Attendance

In general the attendance has been very good. There are a few pupils, however, who have been very troublesome in this respect. It is hoped that next year a satisfactory system of handling this problem will be formulated. The co-operation of the parents in this important matter especially is desired.

Music

The new teacher, Miss Corbett, has made a success of this important department. The study of this subject gives pupils greater power to enjoy life. One of the most pleasing features of the course this year has been the introduction of singing into the high school; and the pupils have taken hold of the work with enthusiasm and profit.

Domestic Science

Important features have been added to this department under the efficient management of the new teacher, Miss Buck. We believe that she has increased the practical value of this work and that many of the pupils are receiving training in this department which they would not receive elsewhere.

Progress

Among the things which have been done to improve the work of the schools may be mentioned the following:

The Courtis Drills for teaching practice in accurate computation have been introduced in the grammar grades.

All teachers have been required to give physical training regularly, and a slight extension of this work will meet the requirements of the new state law, which goes into effect this coming fall.

Teachers' meetings have been held once a month, except during the bad weather of winter, and at each meeting a definite subject has been taken up.

Letters of instruction have been sent to the teachers from time to time.

Reports on the condition and needs of the schools are sent to the superintendent by each teacher every week.

Reports on the progress of the classes are sent to the superintendent twice a term. All these reports are classified, kept on file and used for many important purposes.

The work of the classes has been correlated with present day conditions by the use of the weekly paper "Current Events" in the grammar grades and the magazine "The Literary Digest" in the high school. Other supplementary material of value has been supplied.

Material has been furnished for the use of the children in the primary grades.

The increase in salaries, the new texts in arithmetic and English, the permanent repairs already mentioned and the higher standard of work required in all the grades are also items of educational progress.

The needs not already mentioned are included in the school budget, which has been approved by the budget committee.

In conclusion I wish to express my appreciation of your assistance and hearty co-operation and to thank the people of the town for their splendid support and for doing so much to make my work enjoyable.

Respectfully submitted,

MERTON T. GOODRICH,

Superintendent of Schools.

MR. MERTON T. GOODRICH, SUPT. OF SCHOOLS, KENNEBUNK:

At your request, I hereby submit the following as the annual report of the course in Domestic Science:

The classes opened this year with an enrollment of fifty-eight girls, eleven of whom take sewing and the remainder cooking. Sewing is taught in the seventh grade and there is one sewing class from the High School. There are classes in cooking from both the Grammar and High School, where Domestic Science is elective.

The cooking course includes preparation of foods, menu-making, the serving of meals, together with a study of food and its relation to the body.

A sewing machine and several charts, showing very clear pictures of stitches, seams, plackets, etc., have been purchased for use in the sewing classes. These are proving to be a great help in this course. The use of the sewing machine is taught and problems are given which require machine stitching. The more advanced pupils are taught to use paper patterns. Special attention is given to the selection of proper material for a garment. Reference reading in connection with the textiles is to be done. In connection with the High School sewing a course in millinery has been introduced. This consists of a study of hat foundations and coverings, including a study of hat decoration. Fall hats were made or renovated. Spring hats will be studied and hats will be renovated. Much interest has been shown in this course.

A course in Home Decoration has been given to the more advanced pupils. This consists of a brief study of the history of architecture, and the development of the home, including study of plans, arrangement and decoration of the interior, and color schemes.

During the winter term school lunches are being served to the pupils from the grammar and primary schools who bring their dinners. At noon these pupils come to the Domestic Science room, where one hot dish is served to be eaten with whatever is brought from home. These children pay 3 cents for one serving. This money buys the supplies needed for the lunches.

Respectfully submitted,

MARJORIE I. BUCK,

Teacher of Domestic Science.

MR MERTON T. GOODRICH, SUPT. OF SCHOOLS, KENNEBUNK:

Dear Sir:—I herewith submit a report of the work done in the music department of the schools.

The purpose of teaching music in the public schools is three-fold: First, to enable the largest possible number of children to participate correctly and tunelessly in the singing. Second, by this means to develop in them a love for good music. Third, to teach as many of the principles and to furnish as much of the practice of sight singing as may be possible. Our object has been to attain a high standard in our results.

I was very much pleased at the beginning of the school year to find that, in general, the voices of the children in Kennebunk were very musical. The improvement made during the year is due in a measure to the good foundation laid by their former training.

I have found the teachers unusually interested in the music and very willing to co-operate. Only with this co-operation have the desired results been attained.

Singing has been introduced in the High School for the first time for several years. The general response is hearty and we believe there are good possibilities for future work. Unfortunately we have been unable to continue the High School orchestra owing to a lack of musicians to replace those who have graduated.

We would like to emphasize the development of appreciation for good music. We can neither teach nor study music appreciation without real music to appreciate. The victrola provides concrete material with which to work. "The object of using the victrola is to enable every boy and girl to become not a professional musician but a music lover and an appreciative listener, knowing the world's music as he does its history, prose, poetry and art." With this object in view it has been introduced in a great many schools all over the country, and we would suggest it as a valuable addition to the music department in Kennebunk.

We are always glad to receive visitors, and would urge the parents and friends to visit the schools and see for themselves the work that is being done in music.

In conclusion, I desire to express my sincere appreciation of the support given me by the superintendent, school committee and teachers.

Respectfully submitted,
FLORA L. CORBETT.

TO THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS:

Sir:—I respectfully submit my first annual report as principal of the Kennebunk High School.

The high school curriculum has been reorganized and there is now offered to the children of Kennebunk two courses of study. The Classical Course fits the pupil for admission to the freshman class of any college which confers the degrees of A. B. or B. S. It gives a sound training emphasizing the work in the languages and mathematics. The General Course gives the pupils a good all-round training and emphasizes those subjects which prepare more directly for positions of a commercial character. The two courses of study follow:

Review Mathematics

The rather cumbersome system requiring the pupil to obtain 52 units to graduate has been replaced by the system now commonly adopted, on the recommendation of the State Board of Education, by most high schools. The pupil now must secure 15 units to graduate; a unit representing a year's work of five periods a week. Each pupil is required to study at least four subjects a year.

Three subjects are now engaging the study of all secondary school authorities:—training for American citizenship, physical education, and vocational education.

The United States is being weighed in the balance, and whether or not our country will be found wanting depends upon how every loyal American does his or her part. To the end that the boys and girls may play well their part, increasing attention is being given to the social studies—civics and history.

Every freshman pupil is required to take the Community Civics course. The direct aim of this course is to prepare for citizenship. It differs from the old time civics in that it fixes the attention upon the elements of community welfare—health, protection of life and property, education, recreation, industry, religion, etc. rather than upon the machinery of government; deals with the duties of the citizen rather than those of the official; and treats of the voluntary agencies for community welfare as well as the governmental agencies.

The history courses have been rearranged so that in the second year history to about 1700 is taught; the third year history from 1700 to the present day, and the last year American history, including a study of the leading problems facing America today. The use of the Literary Digest and the National Geographic magazines as supplementary texts has made possible the study of contemporary history and vitalized the work.

The first necessity of healthy, virile children is a hygienic environment. It is needless for me to report that children spending five to seven hours a day in the present high school building are not securing that essential need. The lighting is entirely inadequate, but the most unhygienic feature is the lack of any ventilating system. The health and scholarship of the pupils must suffer.

The pupils have been fortunate in securing the use of the town hall for gymnastics and basketball games. The boys use the hall two afternoons a week. A series of games between the classes has aroused enthusiasm and enabled all the boys to play. The athletic policy is that all the boys play as well as the select few who possess native athletic ability. A first team has been organized and games with other organizations played.

Under the direction of Miss Tilton and Miss Davenport the girls are securing excellent training in formal gymnastics, folk dancing and basketball. It is now planned to give a public demonstration of this work at the close of the winter term.

The High School offers no course which gives direct vocational training. In my opinion the introduction of a commercial course providing training in stenography, typewriting, economics, business practice, and Spanish would satisfy a need of the community. If Spanish were offered, boys preparing for technical schools could elect that rather than Latin.

Training for proper recreation is perhaps almost as essential as vocational training; with that in mind monthly high school socials have been held. Singing has been introduced into the high school, and under the leadership of Miss Corbett and Miss Tilton the pupils have evidenced much interest.

In closing I wish to express my appreciation for the support and co-operation of the teachers and student body.

Respectfully submitted,

RALPH H. BRAGDON.
